2. Searching Through Research4life

Type your search query on the search bar and enter.

The screenshot shows the Research4Life website homepage. The browser address bar displays login.research4life.org/tacsgr1portal_research4life.org/. The website header includes the Research4Life logo, navigation links for Content, Collections, and Help, and language options (EN). The main banner features the text "Welcome to Research4Life" and a search bar containing the query "SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT". Below the search bar, it indicates "Search function provided by Summon" and offers an "ADVANCED SEARCH" link. The page content includes a "Welcome to Research4Life" section with a description of the service, a "Share" button, and a "Collections" section with a link to "Resources for World Day of Social Justice, 20 February". The Research4Life logo and tagline "Academic and professional content for the" are also visible.

3. Results page

The page gives you a couple of options to manage the search results to ensure the retrieval of relevant documents relevant to what you are looking for.

There are several options that you may use to refine your search, these include:

- Date of Publication
- Language
- Subject
- Discipline
- Nature of document

The screenshot shows a search results page for 'SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT' on a research database. The page is divided into several sections:

- Refine your search: Located on the far left, this section contains various filters including 'Add results beyond your library's collection', 'Full Text Online', 'Scholarly & Peer-Reviewed', 'Content type', 'Publication Date' (with buttons for 1, 3, 5, and 10 years), 'Discipline', 'Subject Terms', and 'Language'. A red hand-drawn line highlights this entire section.
- Database Recommendations: A section below the search bar recommending ScienceDirect.
- Search Results: A list of results, sorted by relevance. The first result is 'Reframing the sustainable development goals to achieve sustainable development in the...' by Lin, Michelle M. L.; Sogaard Jørgensen, Peter; Wyborn, Carina A. The second result is 'Nature-Based Solutions for Europe's Sustainable Development' by Maes, Joachim; Jacobs, Sander.
- Related Topics: A section on the right side of the page listing 'Sustainable living', 'Sustainability', and 'Sustainable forest management'.
